

Love of art through Jessie's eyes

Art is subjective. It's not what you see, but what you make others see and feel.

Open your mind to all the possibilities

Everything you imagine can be real if you allow it to be

Break out of established patterns; look at things in a different way

Jade Maduike

"Learn the rules like a pro, so you can break them like an artist" - Pablo Picasso.

Jade Maduike is the embodiment of Picasso's advice. She runs wild with her colour palate and brings a new meaning to how one might experience colour theory.

<https://www.instagram.com/jademaduiken/>

Come a little closer

Jade Maduike is a graphic designer and predominately draws on her iPad.

Burn bright, don't burn out

Her art makes full use of the colour spectrum, especially in the use of blue and green in areas a typical artist might not utilise.

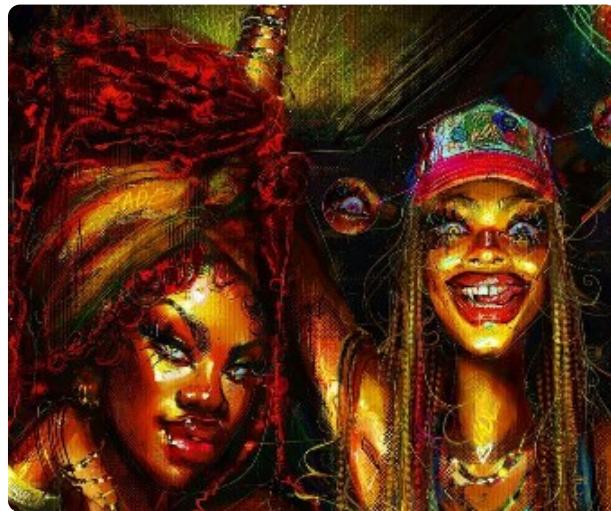

Come a little closer

Her portraits are bold; she is not afraid to show us beautiful black women with attitude and a little bit of crazy.

Things found in the silence

Forbidden fruit

Metamorphosis

Amber Emmi

"What world lies beyond that stormy sea I do not know, but every ocean has a distant shore, and I shall reach it." - Cesare Pavese. Amber's acrylic paintings focus on the deep sea and can trigger often clashing emotions such as loneliness, intrigue and serenity. The details she incorporates into each wave and cloud is truly remarkable.

https://www.instagram.com/amber_emmi/

Northern lights

Lurking beneath

It Won't Be Dark Forever

Amber's depicts the many faces of the sea: the turbulent storm, the following quiet, and the creatures that may allegedly lurk beneath.

The realism in each piece is a credit to her skill in mixing paints mastered over her years, but also matching it to what her eyes could see at sea.

You'll also notice how her depiction of the skies often reflect the mood of the sea.

To be as beautiful as the sea

The end of the world

I will always paint the ocean,
she has my heart forever